IBA Developing Bar Programme for young lawyers to attend the IBA Annual Conference in Seoul

The IBA is offering a scholarship to young lawyers (up to and including the age of 35) from Member Organisations in developing countries who would like to attend the IBA Annual Conference, but who may find it financially impossible to do so. The programme will be arranged between the IBA and a local organiser from the Member Organisation.

The selection criteria for the programme is that candidates:

- will be shortlisted by the local organiser.
- should have over 3 years practice experience.
- must disclose if they are related to an officer of the IBA.
- must not have attended a previous IBA Annual Conference.
- must write a short piece (maximum 500 words) on the topic of Diversity and inclusion in the legal profession – your country's approach.
- must have sufficient proficiency in English to benefit from attending, as conference sessions are in English.
- must note that early travel arrangements should be made to allow for any delays in the administration of any necessary visas.

Participants selected for the programme will receive:

- free registration for the IBA Annual Conference, 22–27 September 2019, Seoul, South Korea.
- a contribution towards a return economy flight to Seoul.
- accommodation costs (room and breakfast) at a selected hotel while attending the conference. This will be organised by the IBA.
- a stipend of 50 GBP a day.

Following the conference we will ask the participants to submit a short report on which sessions they attended and what they enjoyed most about the conference.

APPLICATION AND ADMINISTRATION PROCESS

The programme will run as follows. Please see the responsibilities of each party in bold:

1. Select the designated number of applicants and ask them to complete the application form attached.
Local Member Organisation
2. Check that all the application forms have been fully completed and submit them to Rebecca Ruler (divisions@int-bar.org) at the IBA by Friday 29 March 2019. Local Member Organisation
3. Recipients from each country will be selected for places at the conference by a judging panel formed of four bar association representatives who sit on the IBA Management Board. IBA
4. The IBA will write to the Local Member Organisations confirming which applicants have been successful by 3 May 2019 and the local organiser should communicate the decision to the unsuccessful applicants. IBA/Local Member Organisation
5. The IBA will then confirm to each successful applicant, and provide a registration form for the conference to be submitted to the IBA office. These forms should be sent directly to Rebecca Ruler who will confirm internally that the registration fee is waived. Applicants cannot register using the online system available on the IBA website.

Please note, that should the applicant wish to attend any social events, these must be paid for directly, and payment card details included on the registration form.

TRAVEL AND ACCOMMODATION

1. Each of the selected delegates should book his/her flight directly and no later than 16 July 2019 as the most favourable costs for flights will be available well in advance of the conference. Should a delegate be unable to meet this payment directly at this point, their law firm should assist as the IBA cannot make any reimbursement for these payments until after the conference. Please note that if the delegate does not arrive at the conference, the IBA cannot reimburse the loss on the flight costs.
2. Each of the selected delegates should immediately make arrangements for any necessary visas as soon as possible. If there are problems with visas, the IBA should be notified as early as possible. Delegates are responsible for their own visa costs.
3. Accommodation will be at a hotel organised and paid for by the IBA. The IBA will arrange accommodation for the recipients with our hotel contractor, Judy Lane ICS, from Friday 20 September to Friday 27 September 2019 (checking out 27 September). The IBA will confirm the rooms directly to each delegate using the email address provided. If the recipients would like to stay for any additional nights, they will be responsible for booking directly with the hotel.
4. A per diem of 50 GBP per day for six days will be provided in cash at the conference during a scholarship delegates welcome meeting and details will be sent out about this nearer the time.

TRAVEL INSURANCE

Please note that selected participants are responsible for arranging their own travel insurance to cover their travel to the conference.
